

Prosthodontic Referrals

Dr Peiman Yazdani

Experience

Following five years of training for a Bachelor of Dental Surgery (BDS) award and a few years in general dentistry practice, Peiman completed a year-long full time master's degree at the Queen Mary University of London, and he was awarded Membership to the Faculty of Dental Surgery (M FDS) at the Royal College of Surgeons of England (RCS Eng) through examination.

In 2021, he was awarded with the Doctorate in Clinical Dentistry, following successful completion of a three-year full time specialty training programme in Prosthodontics at Queen Mary University of London and Royal London Hospital, and passed his membership examinations with The Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh (RCS Ed). His research was presented at national and international conferences including the British Society of Prosthodontics and the European Association for Osseointegration in Geneva, Switzerland and published in their journal of Clinical Oral Implants Research.

After finishing his specialty programme he joined the Restorative Dentistry Department of Royal London Hospital, where he has been providing treatment for patients in need of a range of complex restorative treatments and rehabilitation with conventional fixed and removable and implant retained prostheses. He is also involved in delivering education and clinical supervision for postgraduate dental specialty trainees at Royal London Dental Hospital.

Peiman is known for his perfectionism, with exceptional attention to detail, always strives in achieving the best outcomes through bespoke treatment plans for each individual patient and takes pride in the treatment he provides.

Prosthodontic Referrals

Referral Criteria

Suitability for prosthodontic treatment will be determined after an initial consultation with Dr Yazdani.

This will consist of a full clinical examination and radiographs to assess the extent of the patient's concerns. All the treatment options available to the patient will be discussed in detail.

A full report will be sent to the referring dentist, and the patient will have a written estimate of the fees involved.

During treatment at Woodford Dental Care, the patient is always reminded of the importance of continuing to visit their referring dentist for regular examinations and treatment. Referred patients will only be accepted for the treatment requested by the referring dentist.

Scope of Practice

Peiman welcomes patients requiring advice and treatment for:

- Tooth wear / Cracked teeth
- Veneers
- Restoration of root-filled teeth
- Failing dentition
- Crowns and Bridges
- Denture problems
- Implant placement and restoration of Implants
